What's up people of youtube!

Matt here at Downtown Vapes, as you already know, I am the Lab Manager here, I make all the liquid.

So a few months back, we did the World Vaper Expo in Miami, and we ran into these guys here.

So this is Conviction e-liquids, 3 flavors in this line.

They are JOYRIDE, which I will be reviewing for you guys today. PEEL OUT, I'll get to that one I'm sure. and SMASH AND GRAB. Some really good stuff. We decided that we are going to carry this line at Downtown Vapes in West Palms. Some of it should be available online as well.

So, but I wanted to review specifically JOYRIDE for you guys today.

Joy ride is Blood Orange, White Chocolate with a Hazelnut Espresso finish.

This is a 3mg, 70 VG/ 30 PG blend. This is a 16mL bottle, I believe this retail for $12 even.

So right off the bat, immediately I'm like "BLOOD ORANGE CHOCOLATE? not for me, never gonna happen" Hazelnut? not really. Espresso, I've hated every single coffee that I have ever tried, you know what, even if they're good, I don't like them.

So, I got a bottle of this back at the convention, it sat on my shelf, I let it steep for a little while, and then I revisited it, revisited it? I went back to the bottle, and such an amazing flavor, so pleasantly surprised with it.

Like I said, 70VG , kinda will work for your sub tanks, works amazing on your dripper. The flavor is on point, it's not like super intense flavor which you get from some of these guys who just wants to dump flavor into their liquids. Vapor production is on point. Nice dense vapor. Immediately when you vape this, you get a blood orange. and it's not like that orange that everybody else, that is just plain orange. It's like there's something different about the blood orange and it's delicious in this blend.

The white chocolate is there. For me, more of a mouth feel, kind of down here in your mouth. You get that rich fullness of it. And then the hazelnut and the espresso is just like very very light on the tip or your tongue on the exhale. Definitely a nice full mouth feel, if you're into that. I'm definitely. I vape at very high wattage, 200 Watts most of the day. And when you have that higher wattage, you get that nice full rich feeling. It's kinda what i look for in an e-liquid and this one does it. Like I said, conviction e-liquids, this is the joyride, some really good stuff.

So look for that in the shop coming very very very very soon.

Alright, thanks for watching guys.
